Objectives

More repositories
More content
More use of content
More re-use of content

The RSP has been funded to support the establishment and use of repositories in the UK. The project works across the repository landscape, dealing with a wide variety of content types and of different uses of repositories. It offers information, advice and runs an active outreach programme, with site visits, events and a summer school. Its work is integrated into programmes and projects funded by JISC, giving a coordinated support environment for the development of repositories in the UK.
